Social and Emotional Learning Tips For Home:

Respect, Diversity, Equality, Problem-Solving

Social Emotional Learning: In honor of the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday this month. Our social-emotional learning focus is on respect, diversity, equality, and solving problems in a peaceful way. Taking the time to learn about different cultures and heritage within our communities helps build that respect and acceptance for one another! Respecting one another's differences, including other's thoughts and opinions, is another key to respecting one another's diversity!

Some great books to read at home with your child are:

Sneetches – By Dr. Seuss (younger grades)

It's OK to be Different – By Todd Parr (younger grades)

Wonder – By R.J. Palacio (upper grades)

Respect begins with you and me!

Attendance: Strong and consistent attendance is very important in facilitating your child's success. Every 10 days a classroom reaches 100% attendance, they get to spin our wheel for an incentive! Please help your child's classroom out by ensuring your child is at school every day. Please communicate with the main office (385-646-4768) regarding ANY missed days or potential missed days. If you have any questions about attendance and/or Granite's attendance policy please ask us!

How sick is too sick for school?

Deciding when to keep a sick child at home is not always easy. The American Academy of Pediatrics has provided these guidelines:

Fever – If a child has a fever above 100.4°, keep them home until they are fever-free for 24 hours without medication.

Vomiting – If a child has vomited two or more times in the past 24 hours, keep them home.

Diarrhea – Keep your child home until stools are solid for 24 hours.

Sore throat – If a sore throat is accompanied by swollen glands or a fever, keep them home.

Cough – If your child has a deep or uncontrollable cough, keep them home.

Please help us keep our school healthy by considering these general guidelines when your child is not feeling well. If you have concerns, contact your physician and follow their advice.
