

Minutes from Bonneville Junior High Community Council Meeting 3/11/21

Attendees: Beth Hartung-Soria, Tracey Arlen, Marci Olson, Clarke Nelson, Rocky Lambourne, Sarah Jensen

We covered the Trust Land Budget for the 21-22 school year

The money will cover extra classes for 8th grade students in Math, Science and English. Funding for AVID for teachers. We are also funding professional development for teachers, as well as a small stipend for Viking night participation.

We will also be paying teachers for some after school tutoring, which has been very effective in the past.

The school has TSSA money, which will fund 3 extra periods for teachers and will allow us to hire some more classroom aides.

We are asking for an amendment to our 20/21 Trust Land Budget to use funds to replace some older chromebooks.

Marci moves to approve the 21/22 TrustLands Budget, Sarah Jensen seconds the budget. All members approved.

Marci moves to amend the 20/21 Trustlands Budget, Clarke Nelson seconds the amendment. All members approved.

Counselor Update:

Course selection is finished for next year. 8th grade CCRP's are ongoing right now. Counseling staff and district response team have been working with the kids who needed some counseling after the difficult situation last week at the school. More students are being seen with depression and anxiety and the counselors are working on plans and ways to help students with this difficult time.

Digital Citizenship: A video that the district does to watch the digital presence of students and to see if there are any more ideas that we should do. Do we want to have another digital media parent night? Do we do an assembly with the kids? Students should get more information about digital literacy in Health and the Computer Classes. Amanda Hatton could also do an assembly for the kids as well. We recommend parents watching the Netflix show: The Social Dilemma

We plan on talking about vaping during Red Ribbon Week in the fall.

Party for end of year party for 8th graders: We are still going to try and do something, but we don't have any definite plans but it will be outside probably with yearbook signing. More like a field day.
