

We would like to wish a Happy New Year to all students, parents, guardians and community members!

We hope that everyone had a happy and safe break. Here at Eisenhower, we are excited about the new opportunities this year will bring. There are many great opportunities we are preparing for, including our upcoming school musical.

Second quarter is quickly coming to a close. Students are encouraged to check their proficiency levels on Gradebook and work with their teachers to determine how they can best demonstrate the learning and growth they have achieved over the last few months. Along with the end of the quarter, we have a unique schedule next week with only one in-person and one distance learning day prior to the conclusion of the quarter.

January 11: Regular in-person learning day

January 12: Distance learning day- Final school day of 2nd quarter

January 13-15: Student non-attendance days

January 18: No School in observation of Martin Luther King Jr. Day

The time has also come to begin planning and preparing for course selection for the 2021-2022 school year. Counselors will begin visiting classes here at Eisenhower as well as the feeder elementary schools this week. You can plan ahead by visiting the course selection website at: <https://sites.google.com/granitesd.org/ejh-2021-course-selection/home> to begin viewing and discussing potential courses for next school year. Contact the counseling center at: 385-646-5155 with any questions.

We're excited to help students make 2021 the best year yet at Eisenhower!
