This means that those who successfully reset their password prior to this will have to reset again when they login. If you were having issues, the site should be fixed and you should be able to login following the instructions on the main page at https://webstores.activenetwork.com/school-software/skyline_high_scho63u/. How do I change classes?

Class changes can be very important to ensure that each student has the correct classes for the education they desire. Sometimes, students want a class change for personal reasons. These too might be important to the student and their overall satisfaction with the educational experience. These class changes consume a lot of time that counselors need to be working with students for a myriad of other reasons. For this purpose, a class change fee of $5 is often charged for changes that are not academically necessary.

Go to the Skyline High School Counseling website at <https://sites.google.com/granitesd.org/skyline-counseling/home>. Click on the link to fill out the form. The link is also here: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSeE8qP66S6XAI1EZSKcELNs5JTwfrYS4fk9r6doROL_pKkNTA/viewform.

Why are there no fees listed on my account?

Very likely, fees that were unused last year were applied to your account and rolled over to this year. If you would like to check on your specific situation, please email Jennifer Justesen at jjustesen@graniteschools.org.

When will other fees be charged?

Class fees will be charged after the second week of school. We wait to charge these fees for these two weeks because of the many class changes students elect to initiate. It is better to wait to charge fees rather than refund paid charges if a class gets dropped that has a fee and families have already paid the fee.

Participation fees will be charged once a student has tried out and has been selected as a participant on a school team. Students will not be allowed to participate in athletic contests if all participation fees have not been paid.

What if I test positive for COVID-19?

If a student, teacher, or employee tests positive for COVID-19, he or she should isolate right away. This means the person needs to stay at home and away from other people as much as possible. The student, teacher, or employee should not go to school.

How are others notified of a positive case of COVID-19 in the school?

People who have been in close contact with someone who tests positive for COVID-19 are at an increased risk of getting infected and infecting others. Close contact means someone was closer than 6 feet or 2 meters (about 2 arm lengths) to a person who has COVID-19 for 15 minutes or longer. Contact tracing is how public health workers find the close contacts of someone who has COVID-19. The point of contact (POC) for the school works with the health department on contact tracing. The point of contact will notify eligible students, parents, teachers, and employees if they were exposed to COVID-19 at school. The Department of Health guides the following process for contact tracing:

1. People who are tested for COVID-19 will get their test results from the healthcare provider or testing location where their sample was collected.

2. The health department will call anyone who tests positive for COVID-19. It may take a few days for the health department to call the person who tested positive. They will ask the person who he or she may have been in close contact with up to 2 days before he or she got sick or tested positive.
3. The health department will notify the POC at the school if a student, teacher, or employee who works in the school or with students tests positive for COVID-19.
4. The POC collects and provides a list to the health department of students, teachers, or employees who are at higher risk for severe illness from COVID-19 known to have come into close contact with the person who tested positive. The health department will notify the parents of students, teachers, or employees who are at higher risk and provide guidance on how long they should quarantine, how to check for symptoms, and when to consider testing.
5. The POC will notify any other eligible students or students' parents, teachers, or employees who may have been exposed to the person who tested positive. The POC will provide guidance on how long they should quarantine, how to check for symptoms, and when to consider testing. In most cases, the school may only notify the parents of an eligible student (a student who is 18 years old or a student of any age who has taken postsecondary courses) if the eligible student has signed a written consent. There are some situations where parents of eligible students will be notified without a written consent.
6. Only students, teachers, or employees who came into close contact with the person who tested positive will be notified of a possible exposure. (If the health department or point of contact at the school are unable to determine who was in close contact with the person who tested positive, everyone in the classroom, school bus, lunch or free period, extracurricular activity (sports, dances, clubs), or school gathering (assemblies, dances) will be considered exposed and may follow a modified quarantine for 14 days.)
