New Building:

The demolition is progressing and has reached the Dance Room. There is a need to short up the building before demolition continues. There are ongoing roof leaks, including one over the holidays. FFE (furniture, fixtures, and equipment) discussions are ongoing, with Brodie Reid taking the lead to interact with the faculty and the district specialists. Final FFE has not yet been decided. Parking continues to be an issue.

District Community Council:

Land Trust:

More ESSR money is coming, and Principal Nerdin plans to look for spending ideas that are teacher focused. The Summer Boot Camp was very important to our faculty and the Land Trust money spent was worthwhile. Edgenuity is a computer program that our credit recovery team uses to help students get credit. Very important to keep funding it. We must pay for the software license and for the teacher time. Principal Nerdin talked about a new program he wants to start to help teachers intervene earlier with students who are struggling, rather than waiting until a student has several fails. AVID class has started with Syd Lott, students are drawn from Freshman Success classes. Three classes are going, and it is like a 2nd semester of Freshman Success.

Sharp Survey:

The Sharp Survey is happening this year at Skyline, to help assess risk behaviors among our students. Parents must sign a permission slip. This is not the same as Panorama. Panorama is a program for social emotional tracking for faculty and staff. The assessment is given 3 times a year to identify individual students for intervention.

Principal Nerdin ideas:

1. Scorecard to be sent weekly with grades and attendance to keep parents informed of student progress.

2. Intervention class –not yet finalized
3. Intervention time –find times during the school day in which students can go to teachers where they need help or retesting, etc. Plan is to try it a few days in the quarter to see if it is helpful.
4. Alumni Association
